Two Lyrics written by the Reverend John B Tabb

PS 2966
.C7

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

PS 2966

Chap. Copyright No.

Shelf C7

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Two Lyrics

Two Lyrics

written by the Reverend John B. Gabb

TS 966
.C7

ZNB 7 [illegible] 1921

Library of Congress
TWO COPIES RECEIVED
JAN 16 1901
Copyright entry
Dec. 31, 1900
No. a 31707
SECOND COPY
JAN 21 1901

Copyright 1900 by the Craftsman's Guild

"Ad Astra"

Eye the lives that far below, Upon your bounty upward grow? Or feel ye, as they touch the hem, Of light their ignorance to cure, That from your undiminished store Virtue has gone out to them?

Dusk

Alone

am I; but lonelier. The twilight seems to be the lengthening shad ows leading her To human sym pathy

NO WORD; but a mysterious dew
To feelings deep er far, She fash ions in the trem bling dew, And in the steadfast star

THIS BOOK was lettered & decorated by Theodore Brown Hapgood Jr & illuminated
by Emilie Marthecia Whitten for the Crafts man's Guild which is sues it in Boston in the month of December 1900

CCCLXXV copies were printed on hand-made paper and fifty copies on Japan paper: this is No. 374

Printed for The Craftsman's Guild by Carl H Heintzemann at The Heintzemann Press Boston

Jan - 25 1901

JAN 16 1901

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
0 016 256 138 8